THE OPERA HOUSE.

Benefit Performance of De Koven's Opera Tonight.

Wang brought out a fair house on Saturday night for the Stantons, the audience proving enthusiastic over the first act, Miss Stanton being hardly visible under the leis and bouquets that were handed over the footlights, and with which she gracefully insisted on decorating herself. Miss Neilson also received a bouquet and Harney was FULL REPORT so received a bouquet and Harney was his woolly head. The new elephant was much more

A visit to the uplands any of these hot days will prove a pleasant contrast between the cool, windy slopes and the radiating heat of the lands at sea level. Nor need one go so far afield in the search for coolness as to leave the many conveniences of living close to town. It is not often that a City is blessed with a hill like Punchbowl rising in the midst mother of Mrs. J. Carson Brevoort. of the business community. The upper slopes form ideal sites for homeseekers and are at the highest within three blocks of the car lines. Free from all malarial vapors of the lower town, the always present breeze assists materially in keeping the mosquitoes at a respectful distance, no slight boon; while the surface soil has ample fertility for lawns to grow and shade trees to flourish. On rainy days the cars on Beretania and King may be almost blocked by the water, but half an hour after the fall has ceased, rubbers are unnecessary on Punchbowl. It is somewhat surprising that every available foot of building ground on the crater has not long ago been taken up by believers in hygiene.

LAND FAKE EXPOSED.

The Truth About Certain Transactions at Maulua.

To the Editor of the Hile Tribune: In the Honolulu Republican of May 7th, 1901, under the head of "Land Transactions Shown to Congress," mention has been made of certain lands held by various homesteaders in the district of Maulua, North Hilo, and questions were asked as to why these lands were not put up at auction; why publication was not made in the newspapers, and why these homesteaders get a private snap? Mention was also made that the holders of these lands were connected with the Hawaiian Commission. I wish on behalf of these bona fide homesteaders to state that this land is granted under Act 42 of the Session Laws, 1897, section 71, and that everything is in accordance with the Hawaiian Statutes. In further reply and in Rogers Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Howard justice to the honorable members of the Hawaiian Commission, I wish to state that only two of the eleven names mentioned, were in any way connected with the Hawaiian Commission and then only as private secretaries to the members thereof. Under the section referred to, the questions propounded by the Honolulu Republican are very easily answered. Very truly, THOMAS C. RIDGWAY,
